

PRESENTS NEW COAL BILL

KANSAS GOVERNOR WINS NEW JERSEY PRIMARY

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20.—It has been apparent from its inception that the Guffey Coal Act was political in its implications rather than a matter of policy.

Whether it was or was not upheld, Mr. Roosevelt by advocating it attracted the numerically desirable groups that favored it. When he sent word "not to permit doubts as to constitutional it, however reasonable, to block the suggested legislation," he made it clear that he wanted the bill passed, even though it was not destined to make the statutes.

He calculated that his stand, no matter what happened to the proposal, would increase the evidence that he was the "people's champion" against the "interests."

What use Mr. Roosevelt will make of this situation in the campaign remains to be seen. He has thus far carefully avoided open advocacy of constitutional amendment or change in Supreme Court jurisdiction or personnel which would be necessary to validate this type of legislation.

The decision of the Court of Appeals that takes the allocation of relief funds completely out of the president's hands, is another jolt to New Deal experimentation.

PA NEW OBSERVES

No new detours are listed in the local district on the current Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania Highway Department. Considerable construction work is under way on state roads, where traffic is being maintained.

In a card to friends here Peter Brown, Washington street business man, says he is enjoying the Good Will trip of the Ahepans. The card was mailed from Athens and before returning to the United States a number of cities in Greece will be visited.

Another frost is reported in Lawrence county during the night. Temperature got down near the freezing zone once more. Some damage resulted from the frost, Pa. News is informed.

New Castle's public square, a deserted spot during the wintry days, is now the meeting place of an unusually large number of elderly persons, who gather there in the early hours and spend several hours enjoying the weather and a discussion of numerous topics of the day. Some just go there to sit, watch and listen.

Autoists traveling through downtown alleys should have some consideration for pedestrians. This morning a young man was traveling at a fast rate of speed in one of the downtown alleys. A man walking with the use of a cane, just entering the way, became extremely frightened and nearly collapsed.

Add odd sights department: A man walking downtown with three dogs attached to chains. Two business men enjoying a sun bath on a roof of a downtown building early.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follow:

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 70.

Governor Landon Is Far Ahead Of Borah In Jersey

Solid Delegation Of 32 Votes For Landon Outcome Of Primaries

ROOSEVELT SLATE IS NOT OPPOSED

Governor Hoffman In Battle Royal For Place As Delegate-At-Large

(BULLETIN)

TRENTON, N. J., May 20.—Another smashing victory for Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, runaway leader in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, was registered today when New Jersey's solid delegation of 32 convention votes was pledged to him.

Tabulation of yesterday's primary vote was progressing slowly but Governor Landon was running four to one ahead of Senator Borah, of Idaho.

At 9 a. m. returns from 1,353 districts out of 3,580 in the state gave Landon 132,713 against Borah's 33,967.

Landon's victory matches his crushing triumph in the Massachusetts primaries. His lead piled up in both industrial urban districts and in the farm areas.

In some sections of the state Landon majorities were as great as 53 to 1.

Big Vote In Atlantic City
The Kansas governor won by 15,000 in Atlantic county. In 20 Hoboken districts he polled the amazing vote of 375 to Borah's 7.

An interesting aspect of the voting was the bitter fight between Governor Harold G. Hoffman and (Continued On Page Two)

Mistaken Identity And Insanity Are Defense Pleas In Mrs. Titterton's Murder

FIRST WITNESSES HEARD IN TRIAL

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, May 20.—A double-edged defense of insanity and mistaken identification was raised today for John Fiorenza, dapper 24-year-old upholsterer's helper and paroled convict on trial for the strangling of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, young fiction writer, in her apartment in fashionable Beekman Place.

Fiorenza's attorney, Henry Klauber, in his opening statement to the jury declared that a few days before Mrs. Titterton was slain, a fiend was loose in the Titterton neighborhood.

Fiend Was Loose
This fiend, according to Klauber, attacked a woman in the same building where Mrs. Titterton resided.

Klauber later told reporters he had subpoenaed this woman as a defense witness. He declined to reveal her name.

Powers Appointed Federal Attorney

Announcement was made today of the appointment of Attorney John S. Powers, of New Castle, as a special assistant federal district attorney with headquarters in Pittsburgh. The appointment was made by Federal District Attorney Charles F. Uhl.

The federal court has a number of cases piled up that require the abilities of an attorney who has had experience in prosecuting. Mr. Powers spent four years as district attorney of Lawrence county and this experience fits him for the work he will do for the federal government.

Begin Advance Plans For State Convention

Advance plans and arrangements for the 74th convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association which is to be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral October 14, 15 and 16, were made at a meeting of committee chairman at the First Baptist church of this city Tuesday night when the general secretary, Walter E. Myers of Philadelphia, had charge. Mr. Myers stated that even today after nine years, the Sabbath school workers over the state are reminding him of the splendid hospitality and accommodations of New Castle.

Mr. Myers informed the chairmen that the program of the convention was practically completed and that it included over fifty ministers, Christian leaders and Sabbath school specialists who are nationally known—some internationally known. In addition to the being made to use about seven of the churches of the city for afternoon sessions only, for departmental conference. All of the morning and evening meetings will be general sessions and will be held in the Cathedral although it is possible that some overflow meetings will (Continued On Page Two)

See Governor Landon As Virtually Certain Presidential Nominee

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Governor Alf M. Landon's rather easy victory over Senator Wm. E. Borah in New Jersey's Republican primary makes him, in the opinion of Washington politicians, a virtually certain Republican nominee for the presidency at Cleveland.

While instructed delegates to the Cleveland convention are relatively few, the Kansas governor now has a first ballot strength in excess of 300 votes, counting pledges and voluntary commitments. Some of these commitments are not binding, it is true, but the Landon managers are counting upon their being kept.

This figure of 300 is claimed by the Landon managers without counting any from five to the largest delegations in the convention—New York, with 90; Pennsylvania, with 75; Ohio, with 52; Illinois with 57; and California, with 44, a total of 318 delegates. Given half of these, as the Landon managers are confident of getting, the early ballot strength of Gov. Landon would exceed 400. In the convention 501 will be necessary to nominate.

No other candidate, avowed or dark horse, has anything approaching the Landon first ballot strength, nor his secondary strength after the complimentary votes for favorite sons is out of the way.

Borah's Chances Fade
The Jersey primary, in the opinion of most political observers, definitely scuttled Senator Borah's chances for the nomination. It was (Continued On Page Two)

Death Verdict Given Dreamer

Washington, Pa., Jury Doooms Man To Death For Girl's Slaying

CRIME OCCURRED EIGHT YEARS AGO

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., May 20.—For the brutal assault and slaying of 17-year-old Thelma Young more than eight years ago, Robert Dreamer, 39, a husky, ex-railroad worker, today had been doomed to death in an electric chair by a jury of four women and eight men.

Ashen faced but otherwise unmoved, Dreamer heard the foreman of the jury, Samuel Yohe, of Monongahela, pronounce his fate after less than three hours deliberation. Judge Howard Hughes deferred passing sentence pending a motion and arguments for a new trial and Dreamer was led off to jail shackled to a deputy sheriff.

The verdict climaxed a trial which lasted a week and during which the commonwealth offered two confessions implicating Dreamer in the fiendish murder which had puzzled Western Pennsylvania police and the state police for more than eight years. To buttress these confessions, the commonwealth offered a button it charged was torn from Dreamer's coat in the death struggle and the cast of the imprint of a human fist found near Thelma's body which it said was that of Dreamer's clenched hand.

Richardson fired when Lindsay played a flashlight on him. We returned the fire and both Richardson and Lindsay dropped. Only three shots were fired.

Cain said he then examined Richardson and found he was dead, following which he saw that Lindsay was taken to a hospital.

Seven Plunged Into Harbor As Seaplane Falls

One Man Is Reported Missing In Seaplane Crash Near Rockland, Me.

PILOT AND SIX AMONG RESCUED

(International News Service)
ROCKLAND, Me., May 20.—Seven men were plunged into the harbor, and one lost, when the North Haven bound seaplane crashed today soon after taking off.

Pilot Graham and five passengers were rescued by three coastguard patrol boats and a fishing vessel as they clung to the pontoons. All were removed to Knox county hospital, two suffering fractures.

Wreckage of the plane sank five feet beneath the surface and was towed to shore by the coastguardsmen as small craft searched for the body of the missing passenger, William Montgomery, of Rockland.

Governor Lehman Declines To Run For Post Again

(BULLETIN)
ALBANY, N. Y., May 20.—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election next fall.

Summoning newspapermen to his office, the governor handed out a printed statement concerning his plans to retire to private life after four years as chief executive of New York state.

His decision came like a thunderbolt to Democratic leaders, who were confident he would yield to President Roosevelt's plea that he head the state ticket once more.

Mystery Picture Found Painted On Wall Over Bench At Court House

Courthouse officials are considerably puzzled by a lifelike picture, supposed to be that of a murderer, which was found to be painted on the wall back of the judge's bench in court room No. 1, after five plies of paper had been removed by paper hangers who are redecorating the courtroom.

That the picture was intended for that of a murderer was shown by the fact that there was a rope around the neck and the rope pointed upward as through suspended from a gibbet. The picture is in colors, principally brown and blue. There is an arch painted above it in dull brown.

Whether the picture is supposed to represent someone who has been tried in the Lawrence county courts, or is merely a fancy of the artist who painted it, is not known.

How the picture came to be painted on the wall is considerable of a mystery. It is certain that it would not have been allowed to remain there during a court trial. The only explanation seems to be that it was painted on the wall just previous to its being papered for the first time.

It is probable that if the late Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell were now living he could tell something about it, but there are no other persons now connected with the courthouse who have been here long enough to offer any explanation.

House Session Not Adjourned For Convention

Democrats Refuse To Give Way For Knights Templar Convention Next Week

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 20.—Efforts to recess the house until June 1 because of a Knights Templar convention here next week, failed today when the Democratic majority insisted that the house meet as usual in order to expedite unemployment relief appropriations.

Teh recess proposal was advanced by Rep. Clinton W. Sowers, R., Philadelphia, and was endorsed by Rep. Ellwood J. Turner, R., Delaware, who pointed out that the house could "very profitably spend next week at home, studying the bills we have passed."

Turner added that meeting tomorrow the house could pass another emergency resolution to permit the SERB to make relief payments for the first week of June from unexpended balances of previous appropriations.

Rep. Sowers withdrew his motion for a recess when Rep. Herman P. Eberharter, D., Allegheny, urged the defeat of the proposal and announced that the Democratic majority had rejected the plan through consideration at a caucus today.

New Coal Bill Is Introduced By Sen. Guffey

Measure Presented In Senate Session During Early Afternoon

BILL COMES AFTER WHITE HOUSE PARLEY

Controversial Labor Provisions Are Eliminated From New Measure

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—A new bill for regulation of the soft coal industry, designed to conform to the Supreme Court's decision of last Monday invalidating the 1935 Guffey Law, was introduced in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Guffey (D) of Pennsylvania.

In presenting the new measure Guffey assured his colleagues that the labor provisions of the 1935 act whose unconstitutionality caused the high tribunal to invalidate the entire law "have been totally eliminated" in the bill introduced today.

Follows White House Conference
Guffey offered the new bill after a lengthy conference at the White House last night with President Roosevelt. He announced that the bill retains the price-fixing and production control features of the 1935 act.

The new bill will be sponsored in the house by Rep. Vinson (D) of Kentucky. The original bill was introduced in the house by Rep. Snyder (D) of Pennsylvania.

In announcing he would introduce his new bill in the Senate soon after it convened today, Guffey said it would be referred to the appropriate committees immediately, but refused to predict passage at the present session. He expressed hope, however, that such might become the case.

SHOOT FELLOW STUDENTS

Freshman Then Commits Suicide

Blame Insanity Due To Overstudy For Williams College Tragedy

TWO GUNS USED IN TRIPLE CRIME

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., May 20.—A fit of temporary insanity brought on by overstudy was given today as the reason why Lewis Jack Somers, 19-year-old eccentric Williams college freshman and wrestler of Meriden, Conn., suddenly whipped out two small order pistols from his pockets and firing with both hands, killed one fellow student, wounded another and then committed suicide.

Robert Paul Henneberry, 19, Chicago, died instantly from a bullet through the brain, the first shot fired by Somers as Henneberry entered the latter's dormitory in the beautiful Lehman Hall, gift to the college of Governor Herbert Lehman, of New York.

William H. Hartz, 18, a freshman also of Chicago, who entered with Henneberry, was shot through the left shoulder as he tried to duck two shots fired at him.

Despite his injury, Hartz leaped at Somers in an attempt to disarm him, but the latter fired a fourth shot at Hartz's feet. Then he turned both pistols on himself. The one in his right hand discharged and Somers fell dead with a bullet through the temple.

Somers, according to other students, had been acting eccentrically for some time. He was fond of raw meat and had the idea that it "spiced up" his brain. He ran to all his classes, explaining it kept him in condition. He was proud of his physical condition and was a member of the Freshman wrestling team in the 118-pound class.

The tragedy occurred a few minutes after the supper hour, when the college into an uproar. The corridors and other rooms of the dormitory were crowded with students returning from their evening meal. Authorities expressed the opinion that Somers would have killed or wounded many more if he had happened to be in his room.

today. A group of men passing the time away playing Italian handball in an alley in the South Side district.

Last night was another chilly one, and there was a heavy dew, following the rains of the past few days. It did not get cold enough to frost, however.

Glenn Throop, city engineer, stated today that a force of men today commenced quarrying stone along the Pulaski road to obtain stone to be used in the paving of streets. The city is ready to start paving Raymond street as soon as the PWA provides a roller, Throop stated.

The growth of crops planted by farmers throughout the country and the new greenness assumed, is proof that the showers experienced of late have done considerable good. Even the pheasants and other wild game strut about with a great confidence that spring is here.

BOOST LIKELY IN INCOME TAX

super or penalty tax against the undistributed income of corporations, although there was a division of opinion over the method.

Some Estimates
Although treasury experts were to submit new estimates of anticipated revenue from various new taxes, latest estimates showed the increase in the normal income rate would raise $60,000,000 of new revenue while the higher corporation tax would raise $244,000,000. On top of this, the higher income rate would bring in $12,000,000 more through the proposal to make dividends subject to income taxes in the hands of stockholders. This $517,000,000 of new taxes appeared certain of adoption.

Several plans were advocated for taxing the undistributed net income of corporations. One, by Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, would levy a seven percent tax against all undistributed net income and a penalty tax of 35 percent against all undistributed income retained in excess of 50 percent of the total net income. This would produce $332,000,000 of new revenue.

Another Plan
Senator Connally (D) of Texas, proposed a different system. He would grant an exemption of 20 percent on all undistributed net income from the penalty tax. His tax would range upward from 20 to 40 percent on the remaining undistributed net income. It would raise around $300,000,000.

Two subcommittees meanwhile presented reports to the full committee, approving the so-called "Windfall" tax, designed to recapture $100,000,000 of processing taxes from the hands of processors, and recommending a refund of $43,000,000 to other processors for taxes unlawfully collected. Clarifying and simplifying modifications of the house provisions were approved by the subcommittees. An exemption from the "Windfall" tax was urged for those processors who reported a net loss on their business.

The committee chairmen pledged to Mr. Myers their heartiest efforts to wipe out that one exception this year.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock to 60 members. The business meeting was opened immediately afterward and at about 9 o'clock was adjourned.

Mr. Elliott Presides

Mrs. John E. Elliott, vice president of the board of directors, presided in the absence of Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, the retiring president, who left on Monday for Boston, Mass., to see her new granddaughter, accompanied by Miss Josephine Groczynski of the Y. W. C. A. staff. One of the first items of business was the resolution by the members to send a telegram to Mrs. Fankhauser appointing her "grandmother-in-chief" of the association. Mrs. Fankhauser has for years given faithful and excellent service to the association, both as board and committee member, and that her efforts have been appreciated was apparent last night.

No lengthy annual reports were submitted, but, as has been the commendable custom of the association, pamphlets containing information concerning the activities of the past year were found at each dinner place.

Camp Chairman Speaks

Mrs. Robert Eckles, chairman of the camp committee, announced that a very successful season is anticipated this summer at Camp East Brook, that a well trained staff of counselors has been secured and that the registrations have been coming in so rapidly that it is quite likely that there will be a fourth period added to the season.

"I feel," Mrs. Eckles said, "that Camp East Brook is one of the most wonderful opportunities offered in this community for the development of young girls, physically and spiritually, and carries out the very essence of the Y. W. C. A. purpose."

Mrs. Eckles stated that there will be no heavy expenses at the camp this year and because of the financial condition of the association there will be no free camperships except those provided through the generosity of civic-minded clubs, classes and groups in New Castle.

Under the leadership of Miss Rosa Brown, executive secretary of the Elm Street branch Y. W. C. A., a group of dozen light colored girls was introduced at this juncture in the program and sang, "In the Land of Dreams Come True."

During a brief period of announcements the presiding officer spoke of the Cause and Cure of War meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A., when Dr. C. B. Winger will be discussion chairman, and Dr. E. B. Russell, of New Wilmington, and Samuel Rashid, New Castle, speakers. "United States Policy in the Far East" will be the subject.

A unanimous vote to send a note of sympathy to Dr. G. S. Bennett, First Christian church pastor, who suffered a severe heart attack several days ago, was passed by the organization. The Y. W. C. A. is one of New Castle's institutions which has been benefited by Dr. Bennett's untiring community service. Mention was made also of an exhibit of National Youth Association Administration work in one of the Y club rooms.

Annual Meeting Committee

Miss Marguerite White, general secretary, announced the names of committee members who planned the annual membership meeting: Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, chairman; Mrs. John E. Elliott, Miss Alice Sterling, Miss Mary Ellen Henderson from the Senior High School Girl Reserve club, Miss Clara Isolda, of the Good Will Graduates club, Miss Cornelia Henley, of the Elm Street Girl Reserve club, Miss Rose Sacripant, of the Square Circle, and Miss Nellie Ostrowski, of the Energetic club.

Miss White said that this committee had decided to have a dinner meeting in order to secure the feeling of friendliness such a gathering engenders, to have "a real annual meeting, not just an entertainment," to try to secure "real discussion" with leaders from each club giving facts about her club program followed by a general forum when suggestions for next year's program will be offered, and to discuss the religious aims of the Y. W. C. A. in an effort to be "more articulate about our religion."

"Since we do not wish this to get into a discussion on theology," Miss White explained, "about which there are of all denominations, we decided to take the Y. W. C. A. Purpose as our subject and ask each club to tell us how it is carrying out this basic purpose in its programs."

Tell of Club Work

Speakers introduced by Miss White included Miss Peggy England, of the Senior High School Girl Reserve, who told of the success that group has had in discussion groups; Miss Nellie Ostrowski, who told the opportunities the "Y" has offered to the girls of the Energetic club; Miss Ruth Engs, who described the very worthy activities being followed by the Joy Givers club of the Elm Street Branch; Miss Clara Isolda, of the Good Will Graduates club, who told of panel discussions and the proposed sending of delegates to the business girls conference in New York, and Miss Polly Owens, of the Blue Triangle club, one of the oldest organizations of the Y, composed of young business girls.

Miss White mentioned the various classes taught at the Y. W. C. A. by Emergency Education Relief teachers and Miss Anna Taylor gave a resume of work being carried on at the colored people's branch.

Miss Betty Glover, new director of Camp East Brook, gave an outline of the program followed at the summer retreat, emphasizing the importance morning worship and evening vesper services have taken. Every morning the campers are assembled at "The Cliff," a beautiful spot some distance from the camp, and engage in an impressive period of devotion.

"I only hope," Miss Glover said in closing, "that the girls this year get as much good out of camp life as I did last year."

Discuss Y. W. C. A. Purpose

The remainder of the evening was passed in an open discussion of the official purpose of the Y. W. C. A. and how it may better be followed in the coming year's program.

All agreed that the purpose "to associate young women in personal loyalty to Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord, to promote growth in Christian character and service through physical, social, mental and spiritual training, to become a social force for the extension of the Kingdom of God" should be kept constantly before the association and woven into all its programs and activities.

Members took part freely in the forum and all seemed enthusiastic about the association's work both in retrospect and prospect. They were one in their belief that the chief cornerstone of the Y. W. C. A.'s existence must be Jesus Christ and that the above stated purpose must be and is the fundamental principle upon which the entire program among young women and girls is built.

After report from the tellers on the election results the meeting was adjourned.

JOHN FIORENZA GOES ON TRIAL

the jurors Fiorenza was mentally unstable. He cited Fiorenza's first arrest, for stealing a bass drum. When Fiorenza was arrested a second time he was examined by a psychiatrist who, according to the defense attorney, said the defendant "needed mental treatment for his mind."

Has Weak Mind

Fiorenza began to deteriorate "in physical makeup and in his mind and would confess to things that never happened," Klauber declared. Later, talking to newspaper men outside the court room, Klauber remarked that Fiorenza "would have confessed to the Lindbergh kidnapping or any other crime he had read about in the newspapers."

Klauber told the jury he would prove Fiorenza was innocent of the Titterton slaying.

District Attorney William C. Dodge, however, declared Fiorenza had confessed the crime after pretending he was helping the police to solve the crime. According to Dodge, Fiorenza entered the apartment on the pretext he was finding a love seat, which he and his employer were to repair, to be placed.

Doctor Testifies

After both attorneys had made their opening statements, Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, acting medical examiner, explained the condition of the body when he arrived on the scene to conduct an autopsy. Fiorenza, nattily attired, remained impassive throughout the testimony.

Among the spectators was Edward C. Reilly, formerly chief counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, at the latter's trial at Flemington, N. J. Reilly listened to the testimony from a seat among the spectators.

MYSTERY PICTURE IS FOUND PAINTED ON WALL AT COURT HOUSE

another mystery on the south wall of the house. There is painted on this wall a life size man's head, with no name. Above it are pictures of a cougar and a rabbit. The picture bears the name of Joe Johnston, September 1885. Mr. Johnston was a well-known New Castle artist, and no doubt painted the picture. He did the graining of the woodwork of the courthouse and many examples of his handiwork can be found in pictures skillfully worked into the graining.

There is nothing to indicate that Johnston painted the picture of the murderer, and it is very doubtful if he did, as the work is not up to his high standard.

Another feature in connection with the pictures is that the picture of the supposed murderer was painted long after the pictures on the south wall in 1885.

The picture of the man on the south wall may be that of some distinguished citizen, and as such it may have been allowed to remain on the wall.

Scores of people have visited the courtroom to see the paintings.

If adversity develops a strong race, posterity should be very grateful for the national debt it inherits.

SEE GOVERNOR LONDON VIRTUALLY CERTAIN NOMINEE

the second primary in which the senator's candidacy met up with that of Gov. Landon. In South Dakota a week ago Senator Borah's was the only name appearing on the ballot. Yet enough South Dakotans wrote in the name of Landon to enable him to emerge with a narrow victory in a state that had been counted definitely for Borah. The Jersey contest was more direct. In Jersey there were definite Landon and Borah slates, and the Kansas governor won by a wide margin. There were no complications or extenuating circumstances in the Jersey vote.

Senator Borah has tried his luck in the populous and influential eastern states without success. Save in Pennsylvania, where his name alone appeared on the ballot, he is virtually without prospects of delegates along the eastern seaboard. In Pennsylvania, some of the delegates announced they would be bound by the preference vote and Ex-Senator David A. Reed reminded Keystone Republicans several days ago that such delegates should respect their commitments.

Elsewhere there are scant prospects of Borah votes. Gov. Landon triumphed in Massachusetts in much the same fashion he did in New Jersey. In New York, Borah candidates were snowed under in favor of an unopposed delegation, of which Landon is held certainly to get a portion.

Landon Support
On the basis of pledges, instructions and voluntary commitments, Landon votes are counted from Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri,

New Mexico, New Jersey, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming. The entire delegation of each state is not counted in some instances. And it will be noted not any are included from the five largest delegations in the convention, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and California.

Only three more primaries will be held between now and the convention date of June 9. Iowa has one on June 1, Florida ballots the following day, and North Carolina on June 6. Several states will have conventions to select delegates, including Indiana on June 12.

Roosevelt Unopposed
Delegates pledged to President Roosevelt were unopposed, but Col. Henry L. Breckenridge, legal adviser to Colonel Lindbergh, collected a substantial "protest" ballot in the Democratic presidential preference vote.

U. S. Senator Warren W. Barbour (R) was nominated to succeed himself. The Democrats nominated state senator William H. Smathers to oppose him. Indicative of Landon's popularity was the vote in Warren county, where he polled more votes than any of the delegates-at-large who will go to Cleveland to vote for him. There Landon's total was 405 votes. Edge got 370, Duffield 345, Mrs. Edna B. Conklin 345, Hoffman 240 and Fort 183.

A VACANT TITLE

JUST at present there is no important claimant upon the dubious distinction of being Public Enemy No. 1. Experience has demonstrated that it is a dangerous title and that those who hold it enjoy at best only a brief tenure upon liberty or life.

Since the retirement of Al Capone to Alcatraz, the place as Public Enemy No. 1 has passed through a swift succession of blood-covered hands. Dillinger held it for a while and was shot to death by federal agents. He was followed by Homer Van Meter, killed a month later; "Baby Face" Nelson, killed by federal agents; by Fred Barker and John Hamilton, both of whom were killed.

Other deadly criminals eliminated from the scene include Harvey Bailey and George (Machine Gun) Kelly, both serving life terms for the Urschel kidnaping; the "Terrible Touhys" and their associates, killed or imprisoned; Karpis, Mahan, and Campbell, all rounded up within the last two weeks.

The long reign of the bandit in the United States has been one of the dark phases of our history of a nation. The sure conquest of the forces of lawlessness during the last two or three years has been an achievement of distinction.

COMMISSION GIVES TIMELY WARNING

With the advent of the summer tourist season, the State Game Commission has issued a warning that many wild game animals will be killed on Pennsylvania highways before the hunting season opens unless motorists drive slowly and carefully where game abounds.

This year, more than ever the commission says, game animals need all the protection which can be given them. They are just recuperating from one of the most severe winters in recent years and their numbers are sadly depleted in sections of the state.

The subject of safe-driving for the wild game animals' sake is, of course, a subordinate item in the campaign for safe driving, but is, nevertheless, important. While Americans are becoming more and more conscious of the urgent need for game conservation, the situation is still far from perfect. The warning of the Game Commission is a timely one and should be heeded by motorists.

WHO PAYS TAXES?

The answer: Every man, woman and child—prince and pauper, millionaire; or jobless citizen on relief.

Not all people, of course, pay the more direct taxes, such as levies on income or inheritance. But they all pay, when politicians resort to the easy expedient of camouflaging taxation by adopting indirect methods.

Thus, the ordinary chap who buys a package of cigarettes pays taxes. And so does the owner of an antiquated flivver who stops for a tankful of gas. Scarcely anything can be bought without entailing some kind of a levy.

Every citizen, in short, should be interested in reduction of governmental wastefulness, for extravagance in public administration can mean only one thing—a steady advance in the cost of living.

The politician actually soaks everyone when he makes a demagogic gesture at soaking the rich.

WOULD ELIMINATE HAND SHAKING

Americans and Europeans don't think much of oriental hygiene, but there is one respect in which they are ahead of us. They don't spread colds and other infections by kissing and shaking hands.

A prominent Connecticut physician wants his fellow-countrymen to adopt the Japanese system of simply bowing when people meet. This form of greeting, he insists, when properly done, is as friendly and cordial as handshaking, and much safer and cleaner. It might prevent epidemics of flu and pneumonia.

He reminds us that in some European hospitals and laboratories now people are urged not to shake hands. He wants doctors, professors, judges and other leading groups to take up the reform.

It would be a pity in some ways. There is much sentiment in our hand-clasp, and a warm human touch. We might compromise, though, by copying an old Chinese custom and shaking hands with ourselves when we meet.

AMERICA'S CONTRIBUTION

As President Roosevelt told the American Library Association conference at Richmond, the distinctive expression of American civilization, its contribution to world intelligence, is the free public library. It is distinct from foreign models in art, literature and in formal education, as he says. New Yorkers do not have to be told that, as their own library is admittedly one of the best in the country, a true university if its advantages are sought with intelligence.

Fiction, possessing in itself vast possibilities for introduction to culture, is not, however, all that a library can offer. As Ralph Munn, director of the Pittsburgh Public Library, truly said, a tax-supported art gallery does not feature the comic strip nor a municipal band devote its programs exclusively to jazz. Nor is it the province of a public library solely to amuse. Inferior grade fiction, much in demand at libraries, should be a stepping stone to appreciation of higher forms of art. No one would deny fiction in its higher reaches. The novel is as worthy an art form as poetry or drama.

But a young mind fed at first almost exclusively on good fiction can go on to enjoy other forms of literature with understanding and appreciation.

Divorce has good points. Breaking up housekeeping every few years is the only way to get rid of accumulated junk.

If South American cotton endangers our South, why doesn't some patriot carry a pocketfull of boll weevils down there?

Both Democrats and Republicans claim it's in the bag and the election will be a mere formality, but news that the national conventions have been called off has not come over the wires.

Two New Deal Upsets.
25,000 Watch Frogs.
The Flying Swastika.
In School Until 22.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BIG NEWS from the Supreme Court of the United States and the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. Two "far-reaching experiments" of the Roosevelt New Deal are declared unconstitutional.

"The Supreme Court in a sweeping decision killed the Guffey Coal Act; the District of Columbia Court of Appeals held the resettlement administration under Prof. Tugwell violates the fundamental law of the land," according to a Universal Service dispatch from Washington.

THE DECISIONS set forth that "these major experiments in socialization involve unlawful delegation of powers vested in Congress and violation by the federal government of the rights of the states," the Washington dispatch avers.

The resettlement decision affected only that part of the relief activities under Prof. Tugwell's administration, leaving undisturbed the remainder of the 4,800 million dollars voted to the President last year.

Much of the resettlement money has been spent and much more allocated, cancellation of which will raise problems.

THE DECISION of the Court of Appeals virtually holds that the national government has nothing to do with the housing problem of the people. That is the business of the people and of the states.

If this decision of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals is upheld (Continued on Page Five)

FATHER WITH A CARVING KNIFE

TROUBLE WITH father is, he really doesn't know how to carve a roast.

(But then, he never has boasted that he did know.)

But in his house, as in most of the homes he knows, it seems to be the thing to assume that the father or husband will feel hurt, or inferior, if he doesn't do the carving.

But father doesn't know how.... He has sat and envied the precision with which some other fathers, sitting in their chairs, follow the subtle lines of a piece of meat and cut thin slices surely and deftly, and lift them with fork and knife, and don't get a DROP of gravy or a SCRAP of meat on the clean cloth.

Father can't do that.... He can't even sit down at the job. He has to stand up and tackle the thing by what is practically main force. He hacks it off and serves chunks to his polite guests.

(The other day father saw a motion picture of an Arabian meal in Africa.... He saw the cooks preparing whole carcasses of mutton over an open fire, then carving the meat on wide platters to a table and laying it before the hungry sheiks in their spotless robes or togas, or whatever you call them.... And then he saw those chieftains picking off scraps of meat with their fingers, neatly and efficiently, without knives or forks.... And he almost envied them, because there was no "head of the table," and nobody had to carve.)

But the worst thing about father's carving—the family seems to agree—is that he doesn't carve enough.... Something about being on his feet before a roast loosens his tongue, and, instead of carving, he talks.... He tells tall stories, he makes atrocious puns, he laughs at his own jokes, he keeps people waiting till the food gets cold.

Something should be done about it, but I don't know what.... Perhaps it would be better to serve chops.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HIS BRAIN WORKS.

This story has been told before, but it might bear repeating since its principal character has been elevated to the biggest job a king can have nowadays—a side-light upon the mental agility of the English ruler.

It was during the World War and an American officer, going through the rainy night, accidentally bumped into a figure in the dark.

"Who is that?" he asked. "I'm the Prince of Wales," said young Edward, for it was the prince himself. "Who are you?" he asked, in turn.

"I'm the King of England," said the American, feeling he should not be outdone in humor, and not having any idea he really was talking to the prince.

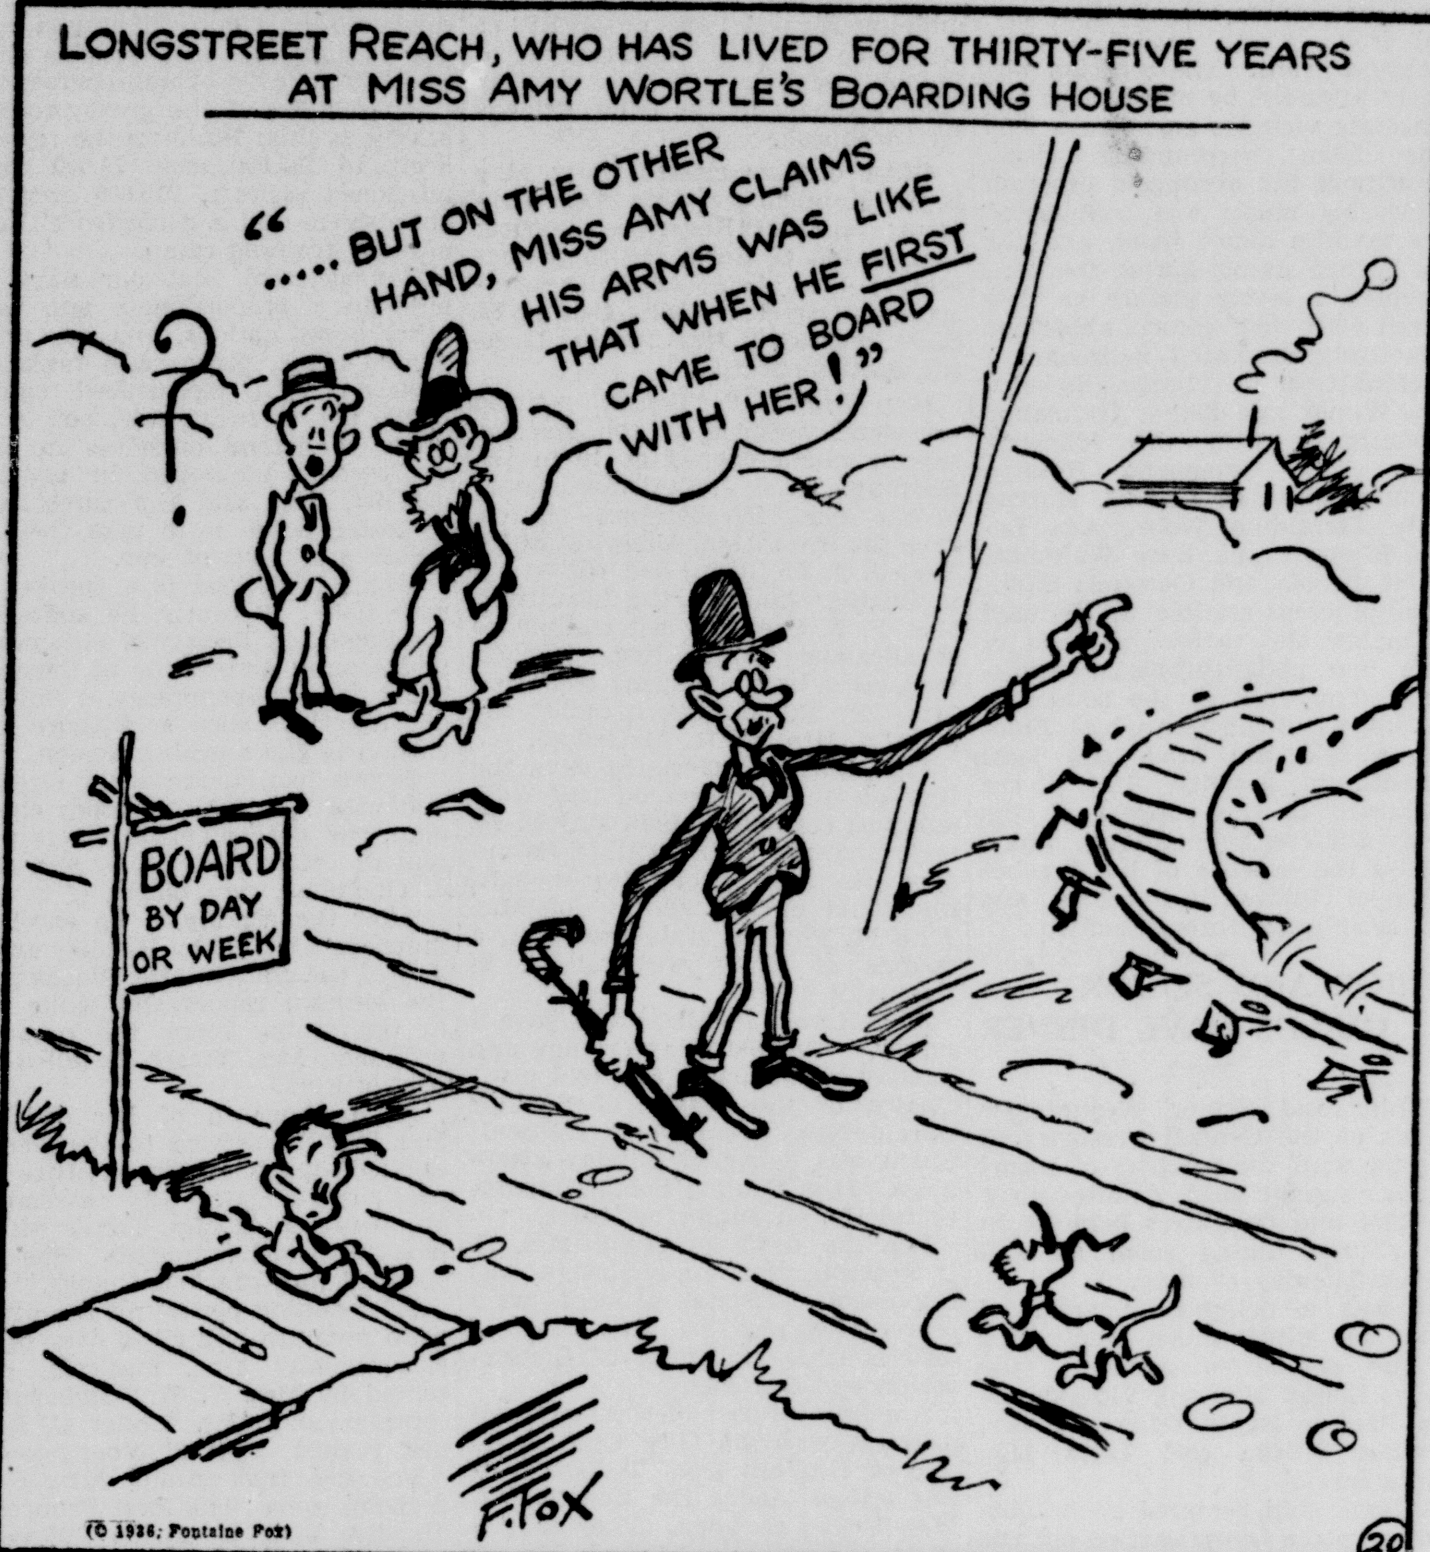

Later, at an Allied reception the American officer saw his rainy-night acquaintance and naturally was greatly embarrassed to learn that the young man really was the Prince of Wales. But Edward saved the situation. Catching sight of the American, he waved and said, gaily: "Hello, there, father."

Growth Of Crime Deplored. English Prisons Are Empty. Fuller Life Is Held Reason.

By LESLIE EICHEL Central Press Staff Writer

AN AMERICAN educator recently expressed deep concern over the increasing number of American youths being doomed to the electric chair. The number of executions of persons under 25 and even under 21 has reached an appalling figure.

As executions have risen, murder and other crime have increased.

There is hardly mention of the putting to death of "unknown" individuals any more. The entire procedure is accepted as a matter of course.

Critics imply that we are turning barbaric and have accepted crime, its causes and its consequences as a matter of course, and expect police and courts and electric chairs "to straighten out the situation."

Of course it is not being straightened out. Prison population reaches new high levels in the United States—while prison population in England drops, and prisons even are abandoned.

Why the difference? Nobody seems to know. There has been no determined effort to find out.

KEEPING THEM OUT In England, efforts are made to keep people out of prison. In the United States costly efforts are made to put them in. Prison population in the United States is 15 times that of England. (The United States has only three times the population of England.)

Regarding the English situation, the Manchester Guardian comments:

"If Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Webb are right in supposing that 'the most practical and most helpful of prison reforms' is to be found in processes which 'keep people out of prisons altogether,' then the newly issued report of the prison commissioners for 1934 may well be regarded as offering evidence of great advance in the direction of reform."

As compared with what was happening when our late king came to the throne, we are keeping people out of prison with marked success. One sign of that is the actual decrease in the gaols themselves; whereas there were 56 local prisons in this country in the year 1910, there are now 26. At the beginning of King George's reign people were being received into prison at a rate of more than 186,000 a year, but 25 years later the figure has dropped to well short of 57,000. Some of them, of course, are the same people who have gone to prison two or more times in the same year, but that aspect of "recidivism" figures applies to both periods, and the daily average "prison population" of the country also shows a handsome reduction from 80,826 in 1910 to 12,238 in 1934.

"Obviously people are being kept out of prison in very considerable numbers, and the difference between now and 25 years ago may well be underlined by the reflection that the population of England and Wales has increased by some four and a half millions in this period which has seen the 'prison population' drop so steeply.

"Another point which the commissioners emphasize is the difference in the prisons themselves and the greater efforts to create a more wholesome and active atmosphere within the walls of a gaol. Idleness, physical and mental, which does nothing to diminish degradation but has precisely the opposite effect, is the besetting danger of prisons. In all the efforts which have been made during the past 10 or 20 years to reduce that danger the commissioners claim that aim has been 'not to make prisons pleasant, but to construct a system of training such as will fit the prisoner to re-enter the world as a citizen.'"

CRUEL The Manchester Guardian calls attention to an injustice that still exists for thousands. The prison report of 1934 showed that 51 per cent of the commitments in England still were of persons unable to pay fines or other money orders. In other words, those who have the money do not have to serve; but the unfortunate who do not have the money must serve.

The same applies in the United States—through the inequity of fines.

CHIEF REASON? The Guardian intimates that the reason fewer persons are being sent to prison in England lies in a fuller life, a better economic life, thus a better social life, enjoyed by a larger and larger part of the population.

Economic and social betterment therefore becomes the chief deterrent of crime.

TO BRIDES AND GROOMS More than good fortune I wish you this morning, You who will wed ere the close of the day. Maid, whom the bridal wreath now is adorning, Man, who so swiftly will bear her away. You will have need for good courage off yonder. There will be days when your faith must be strong; Over the roads where you're destined to wander Luck will not hold you together for long.

God grant you strength for the trials he'll send you. God grant you wisdom for moments of doubt. Luck from disaster can never defend you; There will be days when your faith must be stout. Never to selfishness weakly surrender. Pleasures will come if the burdens you'll share. Keep to your purpose; be brave and be tender. And love will outlive every hour of despair. Trust not to fortune! but deeper within you Take wisdom and courage and faith where you go. Live for each other and love will continue. In spite of the heartaches you're certain to know. The sorrows are many 'twixt May and December. But sweet are their memories once they are flown. Love will bestow countless joys to remember. But the best of good luck cannot do it alone.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1936 Central Press

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20

Notable Nativities—Lyda Roberti, b. 1909, stage and screen actress. Augustine Lonergan, b. 1874, senator from Connecticut....Estelle Taylor, b. 1900, actress and vaudeville performer....Rt. Rev. Ernest M. Stires, b. 1866, P. E. bishop in New York.

Today's Yesterdays—May 20, 1506—Cristobol Colon, called Columbus, died in Spain aged either 55 or 60—no one knows. His last wish was that he be buried in the chain in which he had been sent from Haiti to Spain. He had four graves! The body was buried first in a monastery near Seville, later moved to Santo Domingo, then transferred to the cathedral in Havana, and finally taken back to the cathedral in Seville.

May 20, 1861—North Carolina seceded from the Union, on the 14th anniversary of Mecklenburg county's declaration of independence from Great Britain.

100 Years Ago Today—Samuel Baldwin was buried at the bottom of the Thames, at Lynton, England, in accordance with his last wish. He picked this strange burial place because his wife, in domestic squabbles, had assured him that she intended to enjoy herself dancing on his grave!

May 20, 1799—Honore Balzac was born. (Some encyclopedias erroneously give the date as May 16.) The 85 novels he wrote in 20 years, including the Comedie Humaine which is ranked by many discriminating readers with Shakespeare's better works, has aroused such admiration in William Royce of Brooklyn, N. Y., that today he lives his life in exact emulation of Balzac.

May 30, 1909—An historic day in moviedom. The first animal picture, "Hunting Big Game in Africa," had its "world premiere." It was to set a record for attendance and showings. Audiences thought that it showed ex-President Theodore Roosevelt shooting a lion in Africa. The picture had been filmed in Chicago, with an impersonator of Roosevelt and a lion purchased for $751.

It was notable as the first picture of more than one reel.

It's True—Carlyle's grim jest that "the French nobles laughed at Rousseau's theories, but their skins went to bind the second edition of his books," was founded on fact. There was a tannery at Meudon where skins of certain guillotined aristocrats were turned into leather.

James Whitcomb Riley's first poems were published under the name of Edgar Allen Poe! He claimed they were lost poems of Poe, a hoax which he later explained as a ruse intended to attract editorial attention. But this wasn't his only offense against literary ethics. He got the idea for "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin and the Fodder's in the Shock" from an unpublished poem by a fellow guest at a house-party, Donn Platt. The latter called his, "When the Bloom is on the Alder, and the Tassel's on the Corn."

A sleepwalker, in Pava, Ill., slipped out of bed without waking his wife, went to his garage, drove 12 blocks to the home of a friend and, still asleep, got them up to announce in a loud, worried voice, "I've come to fix that furnace."

Thanks to us: Hall Caine left $1,000,000; Rudyard Kipling nearly the same amount; Thomas Hardy $500,000; John Galsworthy $450,000; George Moore $350,000 chiefly because of the enormous royalties each earned in the U. S. This country provided the major part of the income of all of them.

PEACE GROUP WILL HEAR SPEAKERS

Cause And Cure Of War Unit To Have Discussion Thursday Night

Speakers for the Thursday evening meeting of the Lawrence County Cause and Cure of War Council will be Dr. Elmer B. Russell, professor of history in Westminster college, and Samuel Rashid. On the subject of "Peace Planks in Party Platforms," they will discuss phases of Far Eastern problems, particularly with respect to Japan and the Philippines. They will also discuss the three courses open to our government with respect to Japan:

- (1) We can stay on our own side of the Pacific and let Japan do as it pleases.
- (2) We can protest violation of treaties and build up our navy to enforce our rights.
- (3) We can join in an international protest against Japan's violation of treaty agreements, backed up if necessary by economic sanctions.

This will be the third in the series of meetings on peace planks. It will be held in the Y. W. C. A. at 8 o'clock.

Spanking isn't a cure-all. Never yet has it overcome the ornery character inherited from parents.

Baskets of flowers centered the table and added to the festivity of the occasion.

Today

held, this, with the Supreme Court decision killing the Guffey Coal Act would make a complete upset of the entire New Deal program and make drastic action necessary to New Deal activities.

AT ANGEL'S CAMP, Cal., twenty-five thousand persons watched the annual Calaveras County frog-jumping contest and say "Can't Take It" cover a distance of 12 feet 3 inches in three hops. Another frog, raised on the ranch of the late Will Rogers, was second, with 12 feet 2 inches.

TWENTY-FIVE thousand human beings watched some frogs hop. Not half as many would have gathered to hear Einstein lecture on relativity. This may mean that many human beings are nearer to the frog than they are to Einstein. A famous scientist said that there is a greater difference between a highly educated white man and an African bushman than between that bushman and a blade of grass.

THE BIG dirigible, making its third trip across the Atlantic, will land at Lakehurst, N. J., tomorrow. A few will notice it, after a while nobody will notice it coming; we get used to anything.

But we ought NOT to get used to the fact that while Hitler's swastika sails back and forth across the Atlantic on time and in safety, Uncle Sam's Stars and Stripes sit on the ground and "wonder how they do it."

IT IS suggested that every American be compelled to go to school until 22 years of age, to cut down the competition for jobs. It might be simpler to keep everybody in school until sixty and then give everybody a pension of $200 a month. What could be simpler than that?

The average sensible American starts making a living long before he is twenty-two, and would do well to continue on that basis. The American Federation of Labor says we still have more than 12,000,000 idle.

The French have a saying: "The more it changes, the more it is the same thing."

JACK SULLIVAN, twenty-three, killed a railroad officer in a "gun fight," and died in the gas chamber at Florence, Arizona.

A photograph shows him sitting in the execution chamber, dressed in shorts, a stethoscope, fastened over his heart with tape to let doctors outside the deadly chamber listen and know when he died. That photograph shows him holding a cigar in his teeth grinning.

When asked just before he was put into the lethal chamber, whether he wanted anything, he answered with a smile: "Yes you might give me a gas mask."

THE YOUNG man's photograph shows delight in his ability to "die game." He was dead twelve seconds after that photograph was taken. Crime really does not pay.

LESS THAN three weeks from today the deed will be done in Cleveland. The Republican candidate will be named. It is observed that Mr. Landon is smiling in all his photographs. No wonder. He is so far ahead in the field now that it is really no race.

A straw vote in New York reported by the New York Times, shows Landon distancing his contemporaries, on an average, by more than ten votes to one. "Ten to one against the field" is big odds.

MUSSOLINI believes in drastic measures. Natives convicted of looting and killing in Addis Ababa are shot in "groups of 40 to 50." Italian authorities intend to stop killing by the natives, and for any caught with deadly weapons the penalty is death.

To us, this seems severe, but in dealing with "natives" severity has been found necessary by "highly civilized races" everywhere. The British made that discovery long ago, when their rebellious subjects in India were shot alive from the mouths of cannon because that was what this "natives" particularly disliked.

JAPAN recently has been extremely friendly with Siam and the wise English who understand international affairs are bothered.

They know that Japan wants from Siam permission to cut a canal through Siamese territory that would render useless England's Far Eastern fortifications aimed at Japan's navy and commerce, in case of need.

TWO RADIO policemen in Newark, N. J., killed a robber early Monday morning on the dance floor of a tavern.

The man killed had been arrested eight times since 1925 for larceny, pocket-picking and other offenses. When will our moronic system of justice learn to hold a criminal when once it catches him?

Suggests Union Of Canada And United States

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Sirovich resolution for an investigation designed to lead to Canada becoming a part of the United States was greeted with mixed emotions by members of congress today. The author, Rep. Sirovich (D) of New York was enthusiastic over the plan, and expressed a belief that it will be favorably received in Canada. Sirovich disclosed that he plans to make an extensive trip in Canada during the summer recess of congress to discuss the proposal to create the greatest English-speaking nation in the world with Canadian officials and citizens.

"The idea is the result of a study of the history of depressions of the world," he explained. "Just before congress met last winter I made an extensive tour of Canada. A study of history shows that depressions have been ended by the opening of new territory. Canada can sustain a population of 100,000,000 and has but 10,000,000 people. Canada would offer a new frontier for American unemployed and would herself gain greatly by the aid of Americans in developing her matchless resources."

The Woman with "Nerves" is a Woman More to be Pitied than Censured!

A woman is not only more delicate than a man, but she has more to put up with! Her very sex subjects her to pains, strains and drains that a man never has to suffer.

As a result, a woman is more apt to go to pieces than a man, more subject to "nerves". Only the woman with "nerves" knows what the torture is. When your nerves "go" your whole health seems to suffer. You can't eat, you can't sleep, you can't work. Your whole body twitches at times. You become so tense all you can do is grind your teeth and clinch your fists in agony.

You take a blue outlook on life. You become subject to strange moods and misgivings. You become, without realizing it, "touchy" and "difficult".

Many a poor woman who is thought a nag is but a victim of "nerves". Many a case that goes into the divorce courts is in reality but a case of "nerves".

What To Do

What you want to do for "Nerves" is not try to fight them, but help them. Fighting "nerves" only makes the situation worse. A case of "nerves" is a sign your nerves need help.

One of the best things you can do for "nerves" and the accompanying weakened and exhausted physical condition, is to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This is not a trick palliative, but a genuine medicine for "Woman's nerves", formulated by the famous Dr. R. V. Pierce, who made woman's complaints a special study.

CLUB TO BEAUTIFY THE SEVENTH WARD

Prominent places in the seventh ward will be busy spots this coming summer and fall, if untiring efforts of the Mahoningtown Garden club materialize, according to plans reported at the May meeting of this group Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. E. L. Vincent on West Clayton street.

The club voted to order 300 cercis canadensis or red bud trees, two to be given to each of the churches in the ward and others distributed most advantageously. Mrs. Raymond Horchler reported that four c'm trees had been planted on the new playground on Washburn avenue, sponsored by the Civic club. Mrs. George Horchler spoke on the garden forum of Lawrence county area.

In regard to the garden work being done in the schools, it was stated that already 57 children have signed their intentions to have summer gardens and they are outlining notebooks. This phase of garden activity is carried in the Mahoningtown school by a committee from the Garden club. Mrs. Richard Cooper, president, presided over the business period.

For the program, which was in charge of Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, roll call was answered by giving "Census of Wildflowers in Our Locality." Mrs. W. E. Horner gave a paper on "Converting Waste to Beauty." A second paper on "Lighted Gardens" was read by Mrs. W. C. Mechem, and a third on "Continuous Bloom in the Border" by Mrs. W. G. Wilkins. Mrs. Mechem and Mrs. Wilkins were visitors last night, together with Mrs. R. N. Neale of Oak Haven, near Koppel, who invited the club to her home for a picnic on June 16. Mrs. Neale brought plants from her grounds to the club and these she distributed among the members before departure.

For the June picnic two committees were named: transportation, Mrs. E. L. Vincent, Mrs. George Horchler; menu, Mrs. F. W. Guy, Mrs. C. E. Dungan, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Mrs. George Cook. Luncheon afterwards was served in the dining room from a nicely appointed table, centered with a low bowl of lilies of the valley and spirea. The home was beautifully decorated with deep purple iris and other spring beauties.

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Show-shops: The close of another dramatic season leaves this reporter with a disquieting thought. Either he is an old man who does not have in his heart the proper reverence for the temples of Duse and Booth or else he has witnessed the sorriest aggregation of dramatic blarney ever devised to catch the customers' dollars.

That could be passed over. There are good seasons and bad seasons. But what annoys me to distraction, at the moment, is to see the accredited assayers of the drama giving their hands a satisfied dry-wash and gloating over "a season far above average both in the quantity and quality of hits."

What hits? There was the lofty "Winterset," chosen as the best play of the season by "The Critic's Circle," whose floor whip and "recording secretary" happened, by an extraordinary coincidence, to be the press agent for "Winterset." You know what I think of this pretentious lollipop.

There is "End of Summer." Here we mount immediately to much higher ground. It's swell theater, well acted, magnificently written and produced. And it is the work of S. N. Behrman, who has as much talent in his little finger as 4 Maxwells.

It has, in addition, some more strong points: it was not chosen by either the Critic's Circle or the Pulitzer committee as the best play of the year and Heywood Brown disliked it. There is really only one thing against "End of Summer." That is its preoccupation with the problems of a pair of singularly unpleasant jinxes trying to horn in on the exchequer of a fine old family under the cloak of saving the world. It's old hat thematically, but it's worth anybody's $3.30 to hear the Behrman dialogue.

There's "Boy Meets Girl"—a chuckly spoof at Hollywood. There are many laughs and some deft characterization. But does anyone in the house remember "Once In A Lifetime"? That was the same tune—only, I suspect, somewhat louder and funnier.

I recall "May Wine," a pleasant operetta which even a so-so season ought to be able to bring forth at least once. And "Call It A Day," a moderately true and moving play, full of believable characters. And "First Lady," which is acute, if rather feline, satire. And "Co-Respondent Unknown," rewarding farce with the best portrait of a taxi dance hall girl extant. And of course, "The Children's Hour," a holdover; and "Tobacco Road," a survival from the late Mesozoic.

But what's all the shouting about? Has everybody forgotten seasons which produced truly memorable plays? Does no one remember "The Front Page" and "Coquette" and "Meteor" and "The Second Man" and "The Last Mile"—but the list is endless. Think back, professors, think back!

Missionary Society Having Anniversary

On Court House Hill

In the estate of the late Nona C. Byers, late of Hickory township of which Attorney Wyle McCaslin was administrator, a return of sale of property to E. N. Allison and W. B. Allison for $2300 has been made.

Judge W. Walter Brahm has fixed June 24th as a time for hearing in the case of Mary E. Mumbach against Nathan Gillis. The case is one involving the value of a piece of property on Moravia street on which plaintiff held a mortgage.

County Commissioners report that they have secured all the releases necessary for the improvement of the road between Bossener and Hillsville. Superintendent John Shaw of the State Highway Department will be notified at once, and efforts will be made to get the work started promptly.

Paper hangers at work in court room No. 1 have a "steamer" taking the old paper off the walls. There are several thicknesses of paper and it is claimed that a good job could not be done without taking it off. There are also a number of cracks and broken places in the plaster to repair.

The delinquent tax abatement bill which is before the special session of the legislature does not establish the principle or policy of abating penalties and interest year after year. It is a temporary measure, merely giving distressed taxpayers another chance to save their homes, their farms or other properties up to December 1, 1936. It is similar to the act in force for 1935.

Viewers appointed by the court to determine on the vacation of certain parts of the West Pittsburg road, went over the road yesterday and took measurements and other data necessary in making up their reports. When the road was improved some minor changes were made, and it is necessary that they be approved. A movement is now on foot, to extend the improved road across the West Pittsburg bridge to where it intersects the New Castle-Wampum road.

Several brief wills have been probated at the register and recorder's office. Byron B. Henderson late of Ellwood City, left his property to his wife, Mary E. Henderson for life, and then to his daughter, Hazel A. Newell. Mrs. Henderson is named executrix.

John William Fox, late of Edenburg, left his property to his wife, Myrtle Fox, who is also named as executrix. Under the will of the late Prudence Fisher, her property is left to her nieces Gertrude W. Pink and Myrtle M. Russler for their "unfailing care and kindness." Attorney J. Clyde Gilliam is executor. Mrs. Mollie E. Hagan is the sole beneficiary under the will of her husband, the late Francis J. Hagan of the first ward. Mrs. Hagan is also named as executrix.

The court has authorized the Union Trust Company, a guardian of Joseph Levine, son of the late Samuel Levine, to pay an allowance of $150 from his estate.

In the estate of Eleanor J. McMillan, over which there is some controversy, the court has fixed Wednesday, June 3rd as a time for hearing.

Local officials have discovered that under a law which was passed by the last legislature, mattresses in public institutions, must be equipped with handles. This is so patients who happened to be bed-fast at the time of a fire, could be carried out easily by the firemen. It is not likely that any changes will be made in local institutions until new mattresses are purchased.

Ethiopian Conquest May Be "Headache" Later, Lions Told

Il Duce May Find Land Liability, Not Asset, New Yorker Says

Ethiopia, to Mussolini, may become a "headache" and turn out to be a "liability instead of an asset" once all the "romantic glamour of military conquest has worn off," the Lions club was told at its weekly luncheon on Tuesday.

The opinion came from Howard P. Davis, news commentator for News-Week, a man who has interviewed Hitler and other renowned figures of the world.

"Italy, like some other nations, is a 'have-not' nation—she needs raw materials and markets," Mr. Davis declared. "She proceeded to fill her needs by taking Ethiopia. But she may find there's not as much oil there as she thought."

Mussolini watched the League of Nations fail in its attempts before to punish nations, to right wrongs, and "laid his bet" on Italy's power to conquer the African kingdom, Mr. Davis said.

Three points of "potential explosion" in the world were described at length by the commentator, the one in the Mediterranean section, the one in the German Rhine zone, recently occupied by Nazi troops, and the Asiatic territory.

Germany and Japan, like Italy, were classified by Mr. Davis as "have-not nations," seriously intent upon finding new markets.

"The peace of the future," Mr.

STUDENTS KISSED FOR SCIENCE; NOW STUDY OVERTIME

(International News Service)

TUSCON, Ariz.—Scientific kissing is the rage at the University of Arizona.

By means of a device to record the heart beats, members of a psychology class first worked the kissing experiment. To remove the personality factor, the boys were blindfolded and then kissed by a co-ed. The instrument often recorded a gain of 100 per cent in the heart beats.

That was all with the approval of the professors but subsequent extensive "overtime" in laboratory work and frequent demonstrations at Greek sorority and fraternity parties made faculty wonder if perhaps the co-eds and "eds" may not be imposing a little too much on science.

Words Made Her Kill

Gossipers at Perryville, Md., linked the names of Mrs. Emily Fisher, 24, and the husband of Mrs. Rachel Gillespie (above, right). Mrs. Gillespie, mother of a 14-year-old boy and an 11-year-old girl drove to the Fisher home and shot Mrs. Fisher down as she answered the doorbell. A circuit court jury at Elkton, Md., found her guilty of manslaughter, and the 32-year-old matron was sentenced to four years in prison. She is shown with her attorney, Harold E. Cobourn, who announced he would appeal. (Central Press)

It is reported the couple will marry as soon as the princess obtains a divorce from Charles Henry Huberich, Paris attorney.

Coal Crisis Looms as Court Kills Guffey Act

The bituminous coal industry once again faces the difficult task of self-regulation as a result of the six to three decision by the United States supreme court invalidating the Guffey Coal Control act, sponsored by Senator Joseph F. Guffey, (D) of Pennsylvania. The majority opinion in the test case was written by Justice George Sutherland, while Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes concurred but wrote a separate opinion. Dissenting votes were cast by Justices Brandeis, Stone and N. Cardozo. The act, regulating the coal industry, was written and passed after the NRA was held unconstitutional, and was designed to eliminate price cutting and secret rebates as well as other "unfair practices". Chief Justice Hughes concurred with the majority as to the invalidity of the labor sections, but contended the provisions for regulation of prices should stand.

SCENE IN AN OMAHA, NEB., STREET SHOWING HAIL AND DEBRIS

Extensive crop and property damage and injury to eight persons resulted when a terrific wind and hail storm swept across the Omaha, Neb., Council Bluffs, Ia., area. In some places the hail drifted four feet deep, although the 70-mile-an-hour wind did most of the damage. In this photo of an Omaha street you can see the piles of hail and debris which forced traffic to be rerouted. —Central Press

AROUND CITY HALL

Director of parks Joseph D. Alexander reported today that repairs to the dance pavilion at Cascade Park have been made and that there will be no delay in the start of the summer picnic season. While the park is scheduled to open informally Saturday formally it will not swing into activity until Memorial Day when all the concessions will operate and the day's activities will be topped with a fireworks display late at night.

Some of the business interests in North Mercer street believe that the present two hour parking rule is too long. One of them stated recently that he would be glad to see a half hour parking rule established. Probabilities are that when John Haven completes his survey of parking conditions downtown there may be some changes. According to reports some persons drive to work in the morning, lock then leave their cars parked all day long.

Contagion here has been kept at a low ebb during the present spring. The usual large number of contagious cases has been missing. Very few serious cases have been discovered. The city has been free of smallpox for years and only a few cases of typhoid fever have been found, the origin in most instances having been contracted in other places. In speaking of typhoid recently Health Officer, Dr. W. L. Steen warned persons not to drink from unapproved springs and wells.

Police Chief Ralph Criswell intended to pursue the policy of his predecessors and protect the interests of local business houses insofar as it can be done legally. All persons who want to dispose of goods in a house to house manner here must first conform to all ordinances of the city.

Changes in the fire department are scheduled to occur May 25. The change in the garbage department will occur June 1. Changes in other departments took place some time ago. Sanitary policemen are watching for persons who load rubbage into cars then leave it at night or on hillsides on roads entering the city.

Public drinking fountains are operating on the city streets. The water will be used for sometime yet. Don't lock your car on a downtown street between 12 midnight Friday and 6 p. m. Saturday because the streets sweeper will operate and the car if locked can be dragged to a garage if the street workers so desire.

All Out-Of-State Beer Distributors Must Pay Licenses

State Liquor Control Board Ad- vised To Start Prosecu- tions Within Week

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 20—Officials of the State Liquor Control board were advised by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to institute prosecutions against all distributors of out-of-state beer who have not paid $900 license fees within a week. The instructions were issued following the U. S. Supreme Court's dismissal of an attack on the constitutionality of the 1935 Pennsylvania law regulating wholesale beer distribution.

The attack on the state law was filed by the Perrier-Pabst Sales company of Delaware, the distribution agency of the Pabst Brewing company. It protested against the law which provides that distributors of beer made in other states pay a license fee of $900 annually and post bond of $2,000 to distribute their product in Pennsylvania. State distributors pay a license fee of $400 a year and post a $1,000 bond. In an argument in federal district court on the case a month ago, counsel for the Pabst company argued the difference in license fees was a burden on interstate commerce and in violation of the U. S. constitution. The dismissal of the Pabst complaint in federal court was upheld by the supreme court.

Seever's May Get His Second Trial

District Attorney Says He Can Have Trial If It Is Desired

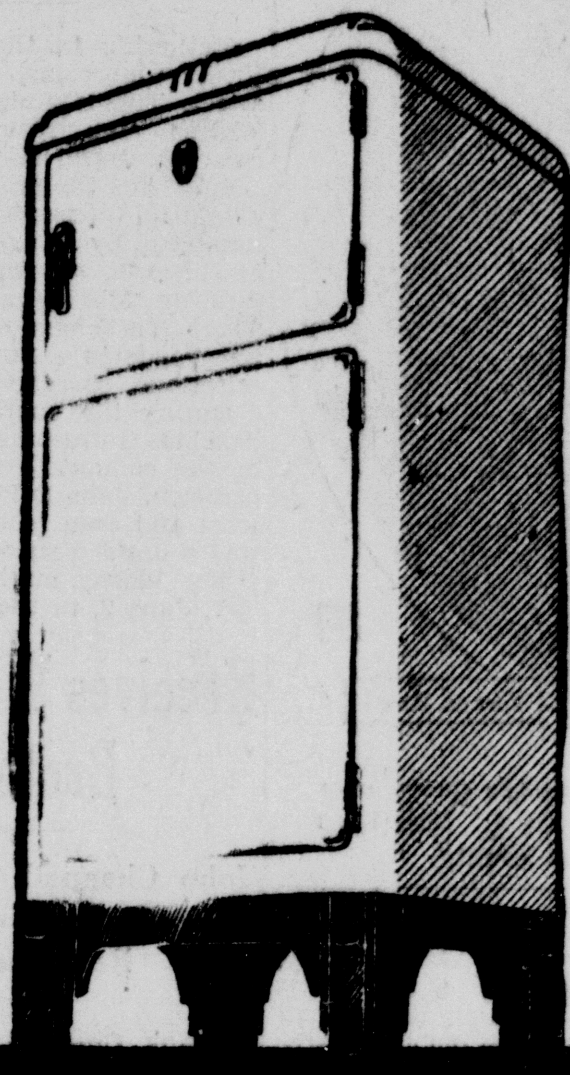

"If John Dewey Seever's wants a trial for the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, on July 25, 1929, he can have it," said District Attorney Mont L. Alley today in commenting upon the petition filed by Seever on Tuesday. Seever was never tried on the charge of murdering his sister-in-law, the case being carried over after he had been convicted of the murder of his wife. However, he can demand a trial if he so desires and the petition is for a rule to show cause why he should not be tried.

The verdict of the first case will have no bearing upon what might be found in the second case. If he was acquitted on the second count he would still be in the Western penitentiary on a life sentence. He could be found guilty of first degree murder and without any recommendation of mercy upon the part of the jury could be electrocuted.

At Seever's trial in September, 1929, he pleaded that he was not normal, due to an incurable disease from which he was suffering. In support of this contention the county psychiatrist of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, was called and testified that Seever was suffering from an incurable disease and would probably die in four or five years.

BARS YOUNG GIRL 'ACTS' IN NIGHT SPOTS

AKRON, O., May 20.—City council struck a blow at night club amateur performances here on Tuesday night, when it unanimously approved an ordinance forbidding the hiring of persons under 18 as club entertainers.

Describing "amateur nights" as usually conducted, as "commerce generated to its lowest level," Councilman Edmund Rowe, author of the ordinance, scored juvenile court authorities for having failed to stop them.

The ordinance was introduced as reports were being circulated of nude dancing and "strip" acts by young girls at beer gardens outside the city limits.

"Certain club owners totally disregard ethics and decency in their desire for profit," Rowe asserted.

"They are exploiting children by having them entertain as amateurs. They give them small prizes and in this manner evade the normal expenses of paid entertainers."

"He declared that on a recent inspection trip to a night club he saw a young girl doing an "athletic dance" subjected to indecent remarks from drunken roisterers.

Missionary From Africa Is Speaker

Rev. B. E. Tanner Gives Illustrated Talk At First Pentecostal Church

A crowd of interested people in the First Pentecostal church Tuesday night was piloted by Rev. B. E. Tanner on a trip to the tropical land of Africa.

The missionary, who has served for years on that field, had an absorbing story to tell and illustrated the address by a number of stereoscopic pictures.

Among the pictures were those of a native who was one of the four who carried the body of David Livingstone out of the jungles when his work on earth was finished. This native, who died just recently, was one of Livingstone's house-boys and had been given the Christian name of Matthew Wellington.

The mission compound where Rev. Tanner has been located is on the site of Livingstone's hut.

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock, continuing the missionary convention which has been in progress during the past week at the First Pentecostal church, Rev. Russell Plant, of Egypt, will bring a message on the subject, "The Egyptian in the Nile Valley."

Churchmen Will Protest Lotteries

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Delegates attending the 90th annual meeting of the eastern synod of the Reformed church today began planning an appearance before the state legislature to protest proposed legalization of lotteries in Pennsylvania.

A resolution condemning establishment of lotteries in the state was passed unanimously by clergy and laymen and provided that Reformed ministers of Harrisburg appear personally before the special legislative session to express their views.

Churches should "clean house" themselves, asserted Rev. George Creitz of Reading, who charged that congregations hold raffles and "chance things off" to raise funds. Another resolution adopted provided for formation of a standing committee on war and peace.

GERMAN DIRIGIBLE IS MOORED AT LAKEHURST

Arrives About 7 A. M. Today

Plans Call For Start Of Return Trip To Germany Sometime Tonight

WINDS AFFECT SPEED OF FLIGHT

(International News Service) LAKEHURST, N. J., May 20.—Completing its second westward crossing of the Atlantic, the giant German dirigible Hindenburg landed at the naval air station here at 7:03 a. m. today. The nose of the big airship was fixed to the mooring mast exactly 78 hours, 28 minutes after leaving its home port, Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany.

In spite of a swirling ground wind, which for a time threatened to assume such proportions as to make mooring impossible, the Hindenburg was brought to an almost perfect landing by Captain Ernst Lehmann.

At 6:58 a. m. the first line was thrown from the airship and five minutes later it was safely fastened to the mooring mast.

Evades New York City.

The airship did not circle New York City before landing, as it did on its first flight here ten days ago. Delayed considerably by head winds over the ocean, which for a time reduced its speed to 40 knots, the Hindenburg came over the New Jersey coast just north of Atlantic City and headed directly for Lakehurst.

There were only about 200 people, in addition to the ground crew, at the field to greet the Zeppelin, in striking contrast to the 5,000 or more excited spectators who witnessed the first landing.

Present plans call for the airship to undergo a quick refueling today and take off tonight on its return journey to Germany.

On its second westward crossing of the north Atlantic, the Hindenburg carried 41 passengers, 1,500 pounds of baggage, 520 pounds of freight and 260 pounds of mail.

The first westward trip was made in 62 hours, a new record for lighter-than-air craft and the return to Frankfurt-on-Main negotiated in 49 hours, 3 minutes.

HOUSE PASSES EARLE MEASURE

Bill Establishes Unemployment Compensation System To Conform With Federal Law

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 20.—With only four dissenting votes, the house of representatives on Tuesday passed the Earle administration's measure establishing an unemployment compensation system in conformity with federal laws.

One of the major bills scheduled for final action by the house, the measure was approved by a vote of 198 to 4. The four Republican members in opposition were Reps. F. C. Altenburg, Crawford; Frederick G. Peters, Montgomery; Thomas J. Sprull, Delaware, and Haines D. White, Chester.

In the brief debate preceding the vote, Rep. Paul C. Moomaw, D. Franklin, disclosed that arrangements have been made to hold a public hearing on the bill in the senate.

Several Republicans who voted for the bill explained that Pennsylvania must have such a system in order to retain $20,000,000 of payroll taxes which otherwise might go to the federal government.

Rep. Thomas Wickersham, R. Dauphin, described the bill as "a stop-gap, not a solution," and charged that it is a "general sales tax adopted under an alias."

Rep. Ellwood J. Turner, R. Delaware, charged the federal legislation results in creating a federal dictatorship over the administration of the state insurance system.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COLLEGE YOUTHS AT HOME

MANY PARENTS will be made extremely happy by return of son or daughter from college. A few will, however, after a few hours or days, be subject to more worries. There will, for instance, be demands for use of the family car, and worries over safety incident to it. Occasionally there will be arguments over it or over the amount of money the youth spends and the number of late hours out.

Then the parents may be vexed because the youth does not voluntarily assist around the home, helps only under constant protest, or helps not at all.

All these matters are almost entirely dependent upon earlier years. Liberty the college youth at home expects to enjoy, and obligations he feels and chooses to bear, had been determined during the years he was constantly at home. His parents cannot hope now to effect much change in him in any direct way.

The young man or woman might himself change completely. In case he has acquired a high sense of justice and sportsmanship—but sportsmanship might not transfer from the athletic field to the home—if he occasionally tries to put himself in his imagination in his parent's place, he probably will resolve to volunteer to take on some responsibilities at home.

Not Taught Loyalty

Unfortunately, a student at college hardly hears in class or elsewhere the slightest suggestion that there is such a thing as loyalty to the folk at home, in a sense of obligation to them.

Nevertheless, an occasional young man or woman home from college, wonderful to relate, feels himself a responsible member of the family. Finds in to do what his hand finds to do, and proves to his parents that he really desires to do his best. He doesn't grumble; for him to share in the home chores is counted no hardship. And as he participates, there arises a home atmosphere of family comradeship.

Consider what it means to parents with whom the college son or daughter often converses freely, and relates many of the personal experiences while away from home. Some parents, however, fall completely to feel and exercise tolerance toward these young folk and their friends. We parents need to examine our selves and see how intelligently we behave toward our children who are now young men and women.

Parents also have some responsibility for making the home stay of college youth enjoyable to all the family. There are those who forget that the college man or woman has grown up, and treat him as if he were a ten-year-old. How can there be happiness at home for him or her?

FORD HAS BUILT MORE TRUCKS AND COMMERCIAL CARS THAN ANY OTHER MANUFACTURER

There is no substitute for EXPERIENCE. And Ford's experience in building trucks and commercial cars has been twofold.

1. Ford has learned HOW to build. Three million trucks and commercial cars . . . one-third of all that have been built since the beginning of the industry . . . have been Fords. No other manufacturer can even approach this record. As a result of this experience, Ford engineers have gained the advantage in designs, materials and methods.
2. Ford has learned WHAT to build. Ford trucks and commercial cars have seen service in every field of hauling and delivery work. And they have served in all these different types of work with equal satisfaction. This experience enables Ford engineers to anticipate changes in operating conditions and even bring about such changes.

The introduction of the V-8 engine into the commercial field actually brought about widespread changes in hauling and delivery practice. It brought power for hauling heavy loads at high speeds . . . it brought speed to cover delivery routes in faster time . . . it cut operating costs in all kinds of trucking operations.

Find out what Ford experience can contribute to YOUR business. Call a Ford dealer today and set a date for an "on-the-job" test of a Ford V-8 Truck or Commercial Car . . . with your own loads.

Any new 112-inch wheelbase Ford V-8 Commercial Car can be purchased for $25 a month, with usual down-payment. Any new 131 1/2-inch or 157-inch wheelbase Ford V-8 Truck can be purchased with the usual down-payment on the new UCC 1/2% per month Finance Plans.

Accident Report For Past Month

Figures For April Are Presented By Department Of Labor And Industry

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 20.—Industrial accidents in Pennsylvania dropped 8.5 per cent during April as compared with March, the department of labor and industry reported today.

A survey by the department disclosed 86 fatal and 7,446 non-fatal accidents during the month. Although the survey showed an improvement in accidents compared with the previous month, the April total was 4.8 per cent higher than that of April, 1935.

The March to April improvement was brought about principally by the more important non-manufacturing industries, the department explained. Accident dropped 38.2 per cent in the anthracite fields and 18.3 per cent in the bituminous regions, due to the seasonal lack in employment in coal mines, it was reported.

Pennsylvania factories reported a 3.8 per cent increase in accidents during April—2,813 as against 2,610 in March. Transportation equipment showed the largest rise with 20.5 per cent and lumber and furniture second with 13.2 per cent. The department pointed out that although the number of accidents decreased in the non-ferrous metal plants, in iron and steel mills the total rose from 924 to 991—a 7.3 per cent increase.

'Stresa Front' Remains Firm

Reich Is Warned Publicly
By Speech In House Of Commons In London

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 20.—The "Stresa Front" of Britain, France and Italy against Germany still stands as firm as ever, the Reich was publicly warned today in a statement to the House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.
Revealing for the first time that League of Nations sanctions against Italy had failed to shatter the allies' union, Eden declared, in reply to a question, by Lieut.-Commander Reginald Fletcher, Laborite M. P., that the "Stresa conference" was "maintaining their common policy."
"None of the three governments has expressed its intention of departing from the policy laid down then," he said.
A united stand against Germany was adopted by Premier Mussolini of Italy, Premier Laval of France, and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Britain at Stresa, Italy, just after Germany rocked the world in March, 1935, by open announcement of her remilitarization.
The former secretary's declaration today comes as a sharp answer to a diplomatic enquiry directed by Chancellor Hitler only this week, as to whether the "Stresa Front" still existed.

Green Is Flooded With Applications

Flood trouble has developed in the office of Superintendent of School C. C. Green. The flood is not a liquid one, but rather a human one. The annual spring flood of applicants for teaching positions is on and thus far Dr. Green has over 200 applications from local young men and women. In addition there are about three hundred applications from other cities.
The outlook for vacancies this year is meagre. Apparently there will be few teachers leave the system which means that the ratio of applications to positions will be about forty to one. There are 341 teaching positions in the school system.

All teachers in the system have had their contracts renewed under the continuing contract provision of the school code and with very few exceptions there will be no resignations.

Our race makes progress. It now has the infant mortality rate almost as low as the goat's.

The machine driven by Miss Bell turned around in the road then plunged into a guard rail. She and occupants of the car, Mrs. Clarence Bell and the latter's daughter Ruth, also of Cochran, were thrown out of the car and down a 15 foot embankment.
All were given first aid treatment at the scene of the wreck then were taken to the Ellwood City hospital. It was found there, according to the State highway patrol that Miss Mabel Bell, Mrs. Clarence Bell and the latter's daughter each had cuts, bruises and concussion of the brain. Fleming sustained a fracture of four ribs, cuts and bruises.

No Alarm Here Over Caterpillar Threat

Lawrence County Woods Near Free Of Blight Noticeable In Eastern Areas

Lawrence county, so far, has been spared the threat of the damaging "tent caterpillar" which already has brought destruction to trees over a large area throughout the counties east of here. County Farm Agent Harold R. McCulloch reported today.
"They haven't been observed in this county to any great extent," McCulloch said.
Pointing out that the caterpillar defolates the trees it reaches, the county agent advised that an arsenical spray will quickly eliminate them.
"Over on the other side of Butler, as you drive along the highways, many of the caterpillar covers can be seen on the trees. Lawrence county, from our reports, seems to be free of them at the present."

Young New York "Killer" Faces Death In Chair

Alfred Volckmann, 20, Found Guilty Of First Degree Murder

(International News Service)
CATSKILL, May 20.—Alfred Volckmann, 20-year-old Greenville butcher boy, today was convicted of first degree murder for the knife slaying last June of Helen Glenn, nine-year-old minister's daughter.
The verdict means that Volckmann, who once played the violin in the church of his victim's father, must die in the electric chair for the slaying, which was preceded by a brutal assault upon the child.
The jury, which required only one ballot to end the lengthy trial, rejected a defense plea that Volckmann was insane at the time of the crime and that he did not know the difference between right and wrong.

Special Session Quits For Week

Both House And Senate Adjourn Until Next Monday Night

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 20.—Democratic and Republican legislators swept their desks clear in a routine two-hour session today and adjourned until next Monday night for a new consideration of the dead-lock on unemployment relief needs.
The third week of the special session considering Gov. George H. Earle's $80,000,000 tax program came to a close with administration house leaders turning "thumbs down" on a Republican proposal to adjourn both chambers next week to facilitate housing of delegates here for a Knights Templar convention.

More important, Democratic leaders contended, was an early devotion of legislative attention to providing relief funds for the month of June and the balance of the biennium. One Republican spokesman, however, urged the legislators would do well to "think over" the work of the past three weeks in a brief respite.

With the relief matter in mind, neither house attempted to bring out important bills or to build heavy calendars. Among several new measures introduced, however, was the administration bill to lift the five-year restriction on constitutional amendment.

It's nice to be ignorant. We can be proud of our country if we don't know how far we lag behind the Scandinavians.

Traynor Looks For Hurler To Help Pirates

Loss Of Hoyt Hurts Pittsburgh's Chances, Would Like To Have Mungo

HAFEY MAY GO TO BROOKLYN

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, May 20.—If your ball club packed all the power and speed necessary to win a pennant, provided it had one more top-notch pitcher, what would you do?

Exactly. That's what Pie Traynor, smart, smooth-working pilot of the Pirates, is trying to do.

And Pie not only knows where such a pitcher is available but he has the wherewithal to land him either by trade or cash or both.

Pie would like to put Van Mungo in a Pirate monkey suit, but Casey Stengel has repeatedly said he would rather part with an eye than with his speed ball ace.

However, Pie admits he would not be averse to taking title to Dutch Brandt and in exchange would give Bud Hafey, a fast youngster who can clutch for distance.

Pie says he hopes to accomplish something along these lines before he leaves town.

Would Take Mungo. "If I had Mungo," said Pie with a far away look in his eyes, "we could just about win the pennant. We can hit enough, field enough and score enough. Now if I had just one more starting pitcher I think we could really do it, Cardinals or no Cardinals."

Pie and astute coach, Jewel Ens, are amazed at the poor quality of major league pitching these days. "There are a few," said Pie, "who could have held their own with the old-timers but these fellows look like supermen only because they stand out so much above the crop of in and outers we now have cluttering up the parks."

Ten Good Pitchers. "I'll bet you can't name ten pitchers in the National league that a manager can count on for a winning edge and a dependable game almost any time they start."

"Look them over. Hubbell and Schumacher of the Giants, Dizzy Dean of the Cards, Warneke of the Cubs, Mungo of the Dodgers, Derringer of the Reds and maybe Davis of the Phils. They just about cover the field."

"And another thing," Ens chimed in, "we get seasoned minor leaguers these days and have to develop them ourselves. They used to come up knowing their stuff and needing only a little polishing up but now we have to teach them the works."

Overlook Youngsters. "The trouble is all those bush managers are trying to win pennants instead of devoting a little attention to developing whatever talent they may have under them. Winning a pennant is okay but developing a youngster is just as important."

Pie said the loss of Waite Hoyt via the appendectomy route robbed him of the league's best finisher. "I've simply got to get another man," said Pie, "and I hope that darned Stengel isn't going to be unreasonable."

Yankees Again Defeat Indians

Monte Pearson Lets Former Mates Down With Seven Hits In 10 To 4 Victory

PIRATES-PHILS ARE RAINED OUT

NEW YORK, May 20.—On what they've shown to date the New York Yankees have little to fear from Cleveland in their drive toward the American League pennant.

Fast growing into red hot favorites with the Boston Red Sox to take the flag, the Yanks have trounced the Indians in five straight meetings as part of a pace-setting spree that is beginning to look more and more like the antics of the old-time "murderers" row.

Cleveland's bright hopes of a few weeks ago definitely are in the wane in the face of the Yankee setbacks, yesterday's being, by the decisive margin of 10 to 4. And Monte Pearson, the Indian of last season, added to the rub by beating his old mates for his fifth victory of the year.

Yankees Win

The Yanks made seven runs in the last three innings off George Blaeholder, who started and was charged with the defeat, and Willis Hudlin, who finally was driven from the hill, and the Indians couldn't do anything about it. The Yanks made 14 hits, the Indians seven, but the latter also drew nine bases on balls, two of which forced in runs. Three Cleveland errors proved costly in the late innings.

The Red Sox remained a game behind the Yanks, by taking their sixth game of the season from the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 2. The Red Sox made only four hits off Stratton in five innings and none off Evans in four, but won on bases on balls and errors. Ostermuller was touched for eight hits while winning.

The Tigers won their fourth game in a row by 4 to 2 from Washington, making a clean sweep of the three-game series as Elden Auker twirled a four-hit game.

Athletics Win

Philadelphia and St. Louis completed the American League slate in a battle of the cellar-dwellers that went to the A's, 9 to 4.

In the National League, Chicago dropped out of a third place tie with Pittsburgh by losing to the Bees, 6 to 5. The Cubs blew a four run lead, when their pitching bogged down and their own 13 hits were off-set by the Bees' 15.

Other National League games were rained out.

Softball Loop Gets Under Way

South Side Merchants, Shenangoes And Gersons Win Class B Games

The New Castle Softball Class B league got under way last night with two games played. The South Side Merchants topped the First U. P. team 3 to 1 at Flats field. The Gersons handled the Keystone A. C. Juniors a 6-to-5 upsetting at Gaston Park field, with over 500 fans present at the game.

The Shenangoes, champions of the Junior league last year, handed the East Side Merchants a trouncing 17 to 2 at Dean Park field.

Manager Dave Riley and his Gerson team played the best game of the league last night, nosing out the Keystone after a hard fought battle, in which Lane on the knoll for the Gersons won his own game with a single in the last of the ninth to score Rhodes who had cleaned the bases with a double. Joe Wright was a tower of strength for the Gersons back of the plate. Santangelo hurled a fine game for the Key Juniors.

The Shenangoes with Augustine and J. Fava on the rubber, walloped the East Side Merchants 17 to 2, the Shenango hurlers allowing but three hits. Laitenen was found for 17 hits by the Shenangoes. Colello was the feature hitter of the game with a homer.

South Side Merchants topped the First U. P. team 3 to 1 at Flats field. The First U. P. boys were playing their first softball game in the league and made a creditable showing. Kendra on the hill for the Merchants, allowed only three hits and he fanned seven men. The Merchants had quite a few hits off of Bollard. The feature hitters of the game were Gentsy, Alexander, Albert, W. Palkovitch and Moses.

S. Winter Gets Only Hit Off Soho Which Goes For Homer

BEATRICE ALLOWS ONLY FOUR HITS

Soho was at his best yesterday and had it not been for S. Winter, catcher for Wampum, he may have turned in a no run, no hit game, but such was not to happen as Winter lifted the ball out of the field in the fourth and romped around the bases for a home run. Beatrice pitched for Wampum and allowed only four hits. A. S. & T. P. tied up the score in the sixth which gave the Timmers their third tie game of the Lawrence county league season. In addition to hitting a home run, Winter made a shoestring catch in the fifth that saved the game, and Huff made a spectacular catch of Butchella's line drive earlier in the game.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Italy Pressed For Ready Cash

May Have Difficulty In Borrowing Funds To Exploit Ethiopia Now

ALREADY OWE UNITED STATES

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S. Street.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Commerce department officials hear that Premier Mussolini already has agents abroad seeking foreign loans to exploit Ethiopia.

That he will be able to raise much money is spoken of as extremely doubtful. In the United States it is downright illegal to make financial advances to nations which are in default on their obligations to Uncle Sam, and Italy is one of them. The British and French, slapped in the face by the Italian defiance of their objections to Fascist activities in east Africa, are deemed unlikely to favor a banker's policy calculated to aid the new empire in consolidating its position.

The Italian government not only has no ready cash of its own, but probably has exhausted its domestic as well as its foreign credit while its taxation rate is so high now that it seems impossible it can squeeze out another lira by increasing it.

And, anyway, it is semi-officially predicted that world capital will not consider the Italo-Ethiopian empire a safe field in which to invest.

ETHIOPIAN OUTLAWS
Another complication threatens. As was to have been expected, although Haile Selassie is gone, Ethiopian outlaws continue to loot here, there and everywhere.

Foreign sojourners' lives and properties are endangered and Italy has assumed the responsibility of protecting them. Indications are that Italy will not be in a position to give this protection on into the indefinite future.

WRONG GUESS
If Duce, to tell the truth, went much farther than Old World statesmanship had anticipated. What it had hoped for, encouraged by military forecasts was that the campaign, delayed by guerilla warfare and rainy seasons would string out so long that the Italians would wilt under the financial burden of it, and have to compromise.

The big powers looked for a cutting up of Ethiopia among them. Or, they thought, Mussolini would be satisfied with a mere mouthful of the African kingdom, leaving the remainder to Haile Selassie.

If they had sensed the danger that he would grab the whole thing unquestionably they would have resisted him more strongly—physically, maybe. Even yet they do not believe that he counted on so complete a conquest. Pure blind luck, they reckon, was with him.

ANYTHING WON?
Diplomacy and militarism alike are skeptical that Italy has won anything in the long run worth while.

They think that Ethiopia finally will prove to be a liability. But momentarily, from the standpoint of prestige they agree that it is a huge asset.

DANGER MAY SPREAD
The United States is not immediately concerned.

Italy cannot get conveniently to its new dependency except through the Suez Canal. Britain can close it. Technically, it is not entitled to do so—but in an emergency, who cares for technicalities. Today, the British are mobilizing in the eastern Mediterranean.

Let a war start there and it will not be a war exclusively between the Italians and the British.

What makes Germany a menace to civilization is the desire to fortify their border as the nice harmless Frenchmen fortified theirs.

"The woman told us she had the illegal mash and whisky in her home because she was going to use it to baptize her newly born girl," Morris said.

Cresce To Study In Navy Music School

Division Street Youth, Senior High Graduate, Accepted For Course

Arthur Cresce, 315 Division street, who enlisted in the navy last Wednesday through the local recruiting office, wired his father yesterday that he had passed the examination entrance into the United States Navy School of Music at Washington, D. C. The course of instruction in the school is two years in length and only 40 men per year are accepted from the entire United States.

Cresce is the first man from western Pennsylvania to be accepted. He was formerly a member of the senior high school band and also the American Legion band. He graduated from the senior high last January and immediately applied for enlistment in the naval service as a musician.
